1. APPLICABLE TERMS.

Your access to and use of PFASGlobalView ("Platform") is at all times on and subject to the terms of (a) this Platform-Terms Landing Page, (b) the Terms of Use, (c) the Platform Privacy Policy, and (d) any additional limits, rules, caveats or requirements in the Platform Service Description. You may not access or use the Platform or any part of it unless and until you agree to be bound by all of those terms.

Notwithstanding the above, if the Platform is being made available to you (or to the business or other entity on whose behalf you are accessing and using it) in the course of providing services under a separate written agreement between you (or that entity) and Ramboll or its Affiliate (a "Prime Agreement"), then the Prime Agreement shall take precedence over the Terms of Use and this Platform-Terms Landing Page, and in the event of a conflict or inconsistency, the terms of the Prime Agreement will prevail. In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing:

- a. Any provisions of the Prime Agreement concerning the governing law, the jurisdiction of courts or other tribunals, and/or dispute resolution shall apply instead of the equivalent provisions of the Terms of Use.
- b. Where the Prime Agreement makes provisions in respect of the price of and/or payment for access to and use of the Platform, those alternative provisions shall apply instead of the relevant provisions of the Non-Public Access/Fee Schedule and Section 8 (Non-Public Access/Payment Terms) of the Terms of Use.

However, the Platform Data Processing Agreement shall nonetheless apply to the processing of personal data in respect of the Platform to the exclusion of any provision in the Prime Agreement concerning the processing of personal data (however described), unless the Prime Agreement makes specific and unambiguous provision for the processing of personal data in respect of the Platform, including provisions addressing the requirements of article 28 of the GDPR and/or UK GDPR (as applicable) in respect of Ramboll's activities as a processor, in which case those provisions shall apply instead of the Platform Data Processing Agreement.
